1. About the Terms and Conditions

The Bank's Terms and Conditions apply to all transactions between you (the company) and the Bank's domestic branches. If special terms and conditions or terms and conditions of an agreement, such as an agreement concerning deposits or credit facilities, include terms and conditions which differ from these Terms and Conditions, the special terms and conditions or the terms and conditions of the agreement will apply.

Individual business areas may require more detailed terms and conditions to serve as a supplement to these Terms and Conditions. This applies to for instance the terms and conditions of cards.

Also, the Bank's Terms and Conditions contain information in accordance with the Danish Act on Payments and are considered a framework contract which states the rules for the use of payment accounts and payment services. The provisions of the Danish Act on Payments have been derogated to the extent possible unless otherwise provided by these Terms and Conditions or special conditions for the individual business areas.

The Bank may change the Terms and Conditions without notice if the change is to your advantage. In other cases, you will be given three months' notice.

Sydbank's Terms and Conditions may be downloaded from sydbank.dk or obtained from your local branch.

2. Collection and processing of data

In order to enable the Bank to provide services to you, we need your name, address, business registration number (CVR) and you must provide information about your tax

If you do not meet the requirements specified by the Bank, if you do not provide us with the information requested or if we assess that the information is incomplete or insufficient, the Bank may be unable to offer you advisory services or otherwise serve you. In some instances it may mean that the Bank cannot establish a customer relationship with you or that the customer relationship must be terminated. This will for instance be the case if the information is necessary to comply with statutory requirements.

The Bank obtains information from sources and records accessible to the general public. In connection with credit assessments we examine whether information has been registered about you with credit information agencies and on warning lists. This information is updated for as long as you are a customer.

Moreover the Bank obtains information about you from its business partners (including correspondent banks and other banks) in the instances where consent has been given or in accordance with the law.

The Bank registers its communications with your contacts and records certain telephone conversations, eg in connection with investments. The Bank has set up video surveillance, including at entrances and ATMs.

The Bank processes information for the purpose of offering financial services of any kind, including payments, advisory services, customer relationship management, customer administration, insurance mediation and mortgage mediation, credit ratings, internal risk management, marketing and fulfilment of obligations in accordance with legislation.

In order to minimise the risk of being used for money laundering, certain forms of activities have been exempted from the Bank's business model. You can read more about this in the Bank's Policy for Prevention of Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing and Sanctions Breaches, which is available at sydbank.dk/hvidvask.

According to anti-money laundering legislation, the Bank is obliged to investigate the background behind and the purpose of all complex and unusual transactions and activities and to register the results of these investigations.

The Bank exchanges data with branches outside Denmark through reports to the Danish State Prosecutor for Serious Economic and International Crime in accordance with anti-money laundering legislation.

According to anti-money laundering legislation, the Bank will store information, documents and other relevant registrations for at least five years after the termination of the business relationship or completion of the individual transaction. Registered communications and recorded telephone conversations (voice logs) in accordance with the MiFID rules are accessible for you for five years if you contact the Bank in this regard. In exceptional cases the Danish FSA among others may request that the data is available for up to seven years. As a rule video recordings are stored for no more than 30 days in accordance with the Danish TV Surveillance Act.

3. Disclosure and transfer of data

In order to fulfil agreements with you, for instance if you have asked the Bank to transfer an amount to others, we will disclose the information necessary to identify you and carry out the agreement.

Moreover the Bank will disclose information about you to public authorities to the extent we are obliged to do so according to legislation, including to the Money Laundering Secretariat of the Danish State Prosecutor for Serious Economic and International Crime in accordance with the Danish Money Laundering Act and to the Danish Customs and Tax Administration in accordance with the Danish Tax Reporting Act.

In addition the Bank will disclose information to external business partners (including correspondent banks and other banks) if you have given your consent or if such disclosure is possible according to legislation.

If you are in breach of your obligations to the Bank, we may report you to credit information agencies and/or warning lists according to the rules in force.

If the Bank has disclosed incorrect data, we will make sure that it is corrected.

5. Electronic mail

You will generally receive mail from the Bank, including bank statements, agreements, terms and conditions and any changes hereto, electronically in your NetBoks in Online Banking.

Mails received in your NetBoks/Inbox will be deleted if the mail is no longer relevant in terms of your relationship with the Bank, for instance if your customer relationship ends.

The Bank may also choose to send agreements for your electronic signature and mail via a provider of electronic mail and signature solutions.

Mail is considered as having been delivered at the time when it is available to you in your NetBoks or other electronic mailbox.

Subject to a fee, you may choose to receive certain types of mail which you receive electronically - for instance bank statements and annual statements - as a hard copy.

It is your choice whether you wish to receive a text message or an email when you have received new mail. Irrespective of your decision, the Bank may choose to inform you separately via text message or email when electronic mail has been sent to you.

6. Authorisation

You may authorise others in writing to operate your accounts with the Bank. The authorisation will remain in force until the Bank receives your written notification of its revocation or amendment.

If the principal is a personally owned business, the authorisation will cease to exist in the event of the death of the principal and access to accounts, custody accounts and safe deposit boxes will be blocked. The same may apply if the principal is a partnership and a partner dies.

The Bank may delete the authorisation if the principal become incapable of managing their own affairs due to poor physical or mental health or similar issues.

We may set amount limits for the interest charged to each account, solely for one or more types of accounts or for specific types of customers or concepts. The Bank changes commission rates and other rates referred to as "premium" or "margin", etc in specific agreements according to the same guidelines as those applying to changes in interest rates.

The Bank will give notice of any changes in rates, amount limits as well as methods of calculation and addition by announcement in the daily newspapers or by sending you a message. The choice of method depends on the specific situation.

8. Value dates, calculation of interest and commission

As a rule interest and commission are calculated on a daily basis. The Bank will inform you on request about what applies to a specific account.

The value date is the date from which a payment into or out of an account or any other account movement will affect the calculation of interest on an account.

The registration date is the date on which the Bank registers an account movement.

The entry date is the banking day on which a registered account movement is entered. An account movement is entered no later than the next banking day after its registration.

Banking days/transaction days are every day with the exception of Saturdays, Sundays and Danish public holidays, 5 June (Constitution Day), Friday following Ascension Day, 24 and 31 December.

When the Bank has registered an account movement, it will be listed in the account entries in registration date order.

The value date is in case of

- cash payment in DKK or EUR into a payment account in DKK or EUR: the first banking day after the entry date;
- other cash payments and payments by card: as a rule the first banking day after the entry date;
- transfers from other clients of Sydbank to payment accounts: the entry date;

With respect to international transfers and transfers in foreign currency, reference is made to the section on payment transactions in foreign currency.

9. Interest and commission

The Bank will add both your interest receivable and your interest payable and commission, either on a monthly, quarterly, biannual or annual basis.

When adding interest and commission, the Bank will credit or debit the interest and commission amount computed since the most recent addition.

Interest, commission or fees added are included in the balance used to calculate interest. This means the Bank will compute interest on accrued interest, commission or fees.

10. Fees

The Bank charges a fee for services rendered, including for procuring statements and documentation, and for executing payments. The Bank charges a fee for other services rendered, including when the Bank complies with statutory and regulatory requirements, and for replying to enquiries from public authorities. On defaulted claims, the Bank may choose to stop the crediting of interest for administrative and accounting purposes. This does not mean that the Bank will waive its right to receive interest on its claim and to demand payment of subsequently incurred costs. This will apply irrespective of what appears from the lists of account entries, self-service systems etc.

12. Provisos as regards deposits

Non-cash deposits into your accounts will be recorded by the Bank provided that the Bank finally receives the amount.

This reservation applies even when it is not stated on receipts or other notifications regarding the deposit.

13. Bank statement examination

You are obliged to examine the entries in your accounts regularly. If there are any entries that you cannot acknowledge, you must contact the Bank as soon as possible.

However any complaints regarding payment transactions falling within the Danish Act on Payments must be made within two months of the transaction being executed.

14. Payments from your accounts

Payment accounts are all accounts which are opened to execute payment transactions.

The Bank determines which accounts can be used as payment accounts and therefore payment transactions cannot be executed from all your accounts with the Bank.

The execution time is the time which will pass before a payment transaction has been registered in the payee's account. The maximum execution time for payments is one banking day, however a maximum of two banking days as regards paper-based payments, for instance giro forms. However special terms and conditions apply to international payments and payments in foreign currency. The terms and conditions can be viewed in Terms and Conditions - International Payments, which may be downloaded from sydbank.dk or obtained from your local branch.

If a payment order is received near the end of a banking day, the payment order will be considered to have been received on the following banking day. The closing time of

You may revoke payment orders up to and including the banking day before the banking day on which you intended the order to be executed. You may revoke payment orders within the time-limits applicable to the individual types of payment transactions.

The Bank may reject a payment order in the absence of sufficient funds in the account from which the payment is to be made.

15. Set-off

The Bank is entitled, without prior notice to you, to set off any amount receivable, due or not due, against your balance with the Bank or against any amount payable by the Bank at the present or any future time, whether the amount receivable is due or not due.

16. Termination of customer relationship

You and the Bank may terminate the customer relationship without notice. If the Bank terminates the customer relationship, you are entitled to receive a reason.

If you cannot accept changes to the rules on payment services, you must notify the Bank before the change takes effect. You will simultaneously cancel the payment services to which the change relates.

Upon termination of the customer relationship, the Bank is entitled to terminate any surety and guarantee obligations and to free itself from other obligations undertaken on your behalf. In addition you are obliged to release the Bank from all obligations undertaken on your behalf or, when necessary, to provide security for such obligations.

17. Payment transactions in foreign currency
